'SAYS HERE'

Greeks Rally To Aid 'Alfonz' Money Drive

Sororities and fraternities rallied to the call of Don Ryan, ASB president, who appealed to them last night for help in the "Aid for Alfonz" drive.

How much money was collected was not yet known by press time; however, Ryan predicted the organizations would produce at least $150 for the cause.

In a letter addressed to all Greek organizations, Ryan repeated one of the objectives of the groups which is to be of public service. He said the "Aid for Alfonz" campaign presents an opportunity for sororities and fraternities to show the school and the community their spirit of good citizenship.

The ASB president paid tribute to the Hungarian people for their courage in actively demonstrating against Communist oppression.

Ryan told how Alfonz Lengyel suffered at the hands of the Communists. Lengyel, as a leader of the Hungarian Freedom Fighters, has been offered an opportunity to meet with the President of the United States. He hopes the meeting will help to shed some light on why the Russians were able to develop an earth satellite before the U.S.

Lengyel does not have the money to finance his trip to Washington, but the student body is conducting a drive to raise the money. The drive will last the entire week. Money collected over and above what is needed for the trip will go toward a fund to help support the three Hungarian students who are being sponsored at SJS by the ASB.

Several downtown merchants have donated to the drive and their contributions are expected to add much to the campaign, Ryan said.

Downtown contributors include Sherman & Clay, Wood's Men's Store, Roos Bros. Department Store, Mosher's Men's Store, Harris and Frank Clothiers, and Howard Nelson Travel Agency. United Airlines also has offered to help.

The White House meeting originally was scheduled to take place October 23, but the recent visit of Queen Elizabeth and the Prince Consort and the forthcoming visit of British Prime Minister Harold MacMillan was thought to have necessitated postponing the Freedom Fighters meeting until November 24.

Lengyel is overwhelmed at the desire of the student body to help him. He wants to go to work to pay back what students are giving him. When Don Ryan explained to him that this would not be necessary, he said he would always be grateful.

Hairy Gams To Invade SJS Tomorrow

Tomorrow, San Jose State will be invaded by an army of hairy "gams". This invasion is an annual occurrence, sponsored by the present Senior Class as the "Gorgeous Gams" contest.

Booths will be in the Outer and Library Quads from 10:30 to 2:30 and votes will be pennies put in jars that have pictures of the candidate's "gams" on the front.

The contest will conclude with the "Gorgeous Gams Dance" which the Senior Class will sponsor Saturday night after the North Texas State football game.

Admission to the dance will be 50 cents for couples and 35 cents stag. The price of admission may count as votes for any candidate until 11:30. At that time the final vote tally will be made and the winner will be announced at midnight.

Trophies will be given to the first, second and third place winners. These trophies will be permanent. A perpetual trophy will be awarded to the sponsoring organization.

Candidates and their sponsoring organizations are Jack Norton, Halls of Ivy; Charlie Bratton, Kappa Alpha; Leigh Weimers, Sigma Chi; Ron Robinson, Kappa Delta; Bob Richards, Ivy Hall; Keith Ferris, Phi Sigma Kappa; Lee Howard, Sigma Kappa; Wayne Montgomery, Phi Mu; John Webb, Delta Gamma; Mike Colby, Delta Sigma Phi; Bob Daggett, Alpha Omicron Pi; Ted Terzakis, Kappa Alpha Theta; Jack Sidlow, Alpha Phi Omega.

Rich Haggetty, sponsored by Kappa Delta, was last years winner.

Lab Space Insufficient, Engineering Head Says

Laboratory space is insufficient for the number of students desiring upper division engineering training at SJS, according to Norman O. Gunderson, department head.

As a result, lower division engineering students who desire upper division engineering instruction at SJS will be screened for the spring semester.

A year ago the student capacity of the Engineering Department was announced to be 1000 students, Gunderson said, then pointing out that there are close to 1100 students enrolled in engineering this semester.

In order to accommodate the overload of students, some laboratories are being used for 45 hours of instruction each week. According to the Standard Laboratory Utilization Formula, Gunderson pointed out, labs are to be used only 24 hours per week.

Four lab periods are held in the Materials and Processes Lab on Thursdays. The periods run from 8:30 a.m. to 11:20 a.m., 11:30 a.m. to 2:20 p.m., 2:30 p.m. to 5:20 p.m., and from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. This is done in order to carry the student overload.

Fewer hours of lab use are needed in order to maintain the lab equipment in proper running order, Gunderson said, and so that instruction will not have to cease in case of an equipment breakdown. For example, in the event of a "heat-treating furnace" (furnace used by students to study effects of heat on metal) breakdown, the instruction program would be completely upset for all students in the Materials and Processes Lab on Thursdays.

Drawing rooms currently are being used from 45 to 50 hours per week. This will continue into the spring semester, Gunderson said, when approximately 1150 students are expected to be enrolled in the Engineering Department. All engineering laboratories are expected to be used 36 hours per week next semester.

Students desiring upper division engineering lab training next semester, Gunderson announced, must have completed (or be enrolled in) coursework amounting to 12 units of mathematics beyond trigonometry, 12 units of college level physics with calculus as a prerequisite, 8 units of college level chemistry, and 10 units of lower division engineering.

In addition, students must take an examination to be given in the Engineering Building from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 23.

Dr. Jacobs stated that he hopes the drive will reach its goal of $9500 by the end of this week.

Queen Candidates To Vie in Show

Thirty contestants for Homecoming queen will take part in a fashion show tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. on the lawn in front of the Women's Gym.

Purpose of the fashion show is to introduce candidates to the student body. Thursday, an election will be held in which members of the entire student body may vote for the 10 queen finalists.

SAC Needs Help With Ball Decorations

Volunteers to help with decorations for the Coronation Ball are now needed, Jan Reid, chairman of the campus Social Affairs Committee, reported yesterday.

"Supplies are all in, and designs have been drawn," Miss Reid said. At least 20 more volunteers are needed to complete decoration plans.

Nick Cheney is chairman of decorations for the ball. He has already finished the covering of the traditional crown.

Help also is necessary to fold bids. Volunteers will meet in the basement of the Business Wing. The Social Affairs Committee is working in coordination with the Homecoming Committee.

SJS Police To Appear Before Student Court

By LOLA SHERMAN

Drinking in the men's rooting section presents a threat to the continuance of separate sections at football games, in the opinion of Charles Nader, chief of the student police staff.

Either Nader or Jim Leavitt, assistant chief, will appear before the Student Court today to express the belief of the police staff that drinking definitely is increased when men are separated from their dates.

Nader mentioned that the University of California at Berkeley had a similar problem and that it was almost inevitable in the separate sections. He does not believe more policing would help because "you just can't control them."

NOT SUBPOENED
Mickey Simonet, Rally Committee chairman, said previously that she was not being subpoenaed, that she was appearing at the court's invitation to tell how it could help enforce the sections inaugurated at the Arizona State game.

There was very little cooperation with the yell leaders at last Saturday's game, according to Miss Simonet, who declined to be quoted further until after the hearing.

Other business before the court will be the charges of violating the school advertising code lodged against La Torre, college yearbook, and California Student Teachers Assn.

'ILLEGAL AD PLACEMENT'
Norm Menzie, vice president of CSTA, will appear for the group charged with illegally placing advertising on campus billboards. Menzie was unavailable for comment, but Claire Strauss, publicity chairman, said that the association had no defense.

La Torre is charged with failure to sign the advertising book, failure to request permission to advertise, and illegal placement of advertising. Dr. Charles Forbes, associate professor of journalism, stated that he knew nothing about the defense planned by the annual.

'FIRE' SMOKES, Photog Chokes, Nothing Burns

"Where there's smoke, there's not always fire."

At least that's the conclusion reached by San Jose firemen Friday night when they responded to a call from the SJS Journalism Building.

Before entering the darkroom to work on some pictures, Paul Girard, staff photographer for The Spartan Daily, turned on the lights in the photography studio.

In a few minutes, Girard, feeling an unusual temperature increase in the darkroom, stepped out into the studio to find the room filled with smoke.

Choking and coughing his way to the telephone, Girard called the San Jose Fire Department, explaining that apparently there was a small fire in the Journalism Building at San Jose State College.

The firemen, intent on saving the campus from utter destruction, immediately dispatched 15 pieces of fire-fighting equipment to the corner of tenth and San Antonio streets.

Another phone call finally guided firemen to the "Smoke-filled room." An examination of the studio showed that the smoke had been caused by an overheated wire in one of the photographic lamps.

The Fire? Actually there was no fire... only smoke.

Sophomores added $83.85 to their treasury as a result of an after-game dance sponsored by the class Saturday night, Sandy Creech, treasurer, reported at the class meeting yesterday.

Class privilege cards were discussed at the meeting, and Jerry Snyder, class president, urged sophomores to turn in ideas for uses for the cards other than social activities. An intensified sales campaign for the cards will be staged Nov. 11-22, and a night meeting for salesmen will be held Nov. 6. Snyder announced that the cards will be blue, with black printing.

Ron Robinson, sophomore vice-president, said that the Fresh Soph mixer will be held in December or January, and will be sponsored by the sophomores. He urged members of the class to apply for chairmanship of the affair, and turn in applications to the class executive council.

FRESH MEET OFFICERS
Freshman classmates met in Morris Dailey Auditorium yesterday afternoon and formally were introduced to their new officers.

Some plans for the semester were laid before the class and a few reports were presented. Freshmen learned that their class starts off with $200 in the treasury. A complete report on finances will come next week when figures will be available on receipts from the "After The Game Dance" sponsored by the class.

The Freshmen showed a willingness to accept a challenge from the Sophomore Class to enter a class meeting competition. Both classes will attempt to conduct a meeting despite interferences offered by the opposing class.

Purpose of the contest will be to prove that the class can hold together regardless of opposition.

SENIORS PLAN PARTY
Final plans were made at yesterday's Senior Class meeting for the party which the Seniors are going to give for the Freshmen Monday. The Seniors will provide entertainment and refreshments and will answer questions from the Freshmen.

NO JUNIOR MEETING
There was no Junior Class meeting yesterday because of sorority rushing, according to Bill Douglas, class president.

Entertainment, Ho!

Out of the rubble, every once in a while comes a ray of hope. This has happened here.

The Spartan Daily had been "sitting" on a story regarding the bringing of professional entertainers to San Jose State for free appearances — entertainers like the Four Freshmen, Dennis Day, the Four Lads, and such.

At least, we kept the story quiet until it suddenly disappeared from under us. Then we got mad and went to find out why. And we did.

The plan was withdrawn—and we're convinced wisely—because it would not be in the best interest of the college as a whole. Under the proposed setup, the performers would be making personal appearances, not performing. They would be using San Jose State and giving little in return.

But don't panic. Professional entertainment may yet become a reality here. The halt of this one plan doesn't mean the end of all, as we feared at first.

If you have an excellent memory, you may remember the Committee on Concerts and Professional Artists' Performances, which got underway last year and fell quickly on its face.

The Committee brought the Gateway Singers to campus, without adequately letting the students know. The program fell flat, financially. And so, the Committee called it quits.

Now, ASB President Don Ryan has reported that the College Life Committee is working to get the Concert group back on its feet. We hope it does this—and soon.

The potential is there in this committee. The Gateway Singers would have gone over well if there had been a better job of publicity. This would have opened the door for other groups—the Four Freshmen, Dave Brubeck, and others.

That one setback has slowed things down. But that ray of hope is still there.

The Circular File

By LEIGH WEIMERS

Hark! (Thought I'd start this column with an exclamation like that. It's made Little Orphan Annie rich. Also, it is supposed to get your attention.) This we are taught in journalism classes. And it must work, otherwise you would not have read this far already.

Anyway, Hark! The Circular File presents another sociological survey, prompted by the overwhelming success of its recent pipe-smoker bit. (An overwhelming success is gauged on the number of Thrust and Parry letters received in protest, which numbered zero.)

Today, let us look at the shift in the dolly-watching, hustling, rah-rah, social-type segment of our student population. This group has shifted camps from the Outer Quad to the area in front of the Library addition. This is significant.

Last year, the Outer Quad was

Tells All

Dear Thrust and Parry:

A letter recently appearing in this column expressed dissatisfaction with education courses. As usual, the old "Why isn't something done," was piously incanted. With this attitude I find no sympathy, for I know what is wrong, and so will you—shortly.

There is nothing wrong with education courses — nothing that isn't wrong with any other course given at this college. Courses, after all, are only supposed to expose the student to knowledge.

If one's mind is sufficiently sponge-like, there should be little difficulty in soaking up almost any subject.

While it is true that education courses are, for the most part, prescribed by the all-knowing state as requisites for those entering the teaching profession, this should alarm no one.

I am, by tradition, optimistic and recently have been invigorated by glad tidings. I have been reliably informed that Wishful Thinking 150 has been dropped from the Bulletin. It was replaced this semester by Effective Action 101.

Designed to impart certain skills in reacting to various stimuli, the new course begins with a pinprick. The midterm is simulated maze-running, and the final, a professor told me, will be comprehensive. With this prerequisite, the administration hopes that there will be a sufficient number of students qualified to take Action Thinking 102.

Can you tell me what has happened to that good old fashioned habit of "blowing the nose"? Whatever the answer, the sound effects in our library and classrooms resemble those of a kindergarten.

ABC-TV is hot for an Orson Welles half-hour drama show—the network hopes to launch it in January for Sunday showing. CBS-TV landed Judith Anderson for the lead in its January Spec, "The Bride of San Luis Rey."

Juvenile Girls

Dear Thrust and Parry:

I don't feel that the average gum chewing, nail biting sophomore girls with their somewhat limited social experiences are capable of answering when asked "What's your major complaint with college men?" I think most of them are juvenile.

It might be somewhat more apropos if the vast majority of these "women" would consult their constant companion, the mirror, and inspect themselves objectively just once. Surprise!

Dorm Visitor Gets Surprise

By CHARLENE SHATTUCK

As a warning to any young SJS male who might be contemplating a visit to a girls' dorm, I submit the following news item which appeared in the "Oregon Daily Emerald": "A male has finally been killed trying to break into the second floor of Carson hall. Whether it was suicide or murder has not been decided by authorities. Last Friday Marge Davis and Rose Marie Miller returned to their room to find it littered with shattered glass. To their horror, a warm corpse was crumpled on the floor. 'All University men have been warned that segregation of the sexes is mandatory above the first floor in both men's and women's dorms, but the slaying of an innocent male is ridiculous,' stated an outraged freshman girl." And so the students at the University of Oregon are mourning the loss of a "poor innocent male" who, incidentally, was a cock pheasant.

INTERESTING FACT: At a recent meeting of the professional chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, journalism fraternity, Don Mozley, news director of KCBS, noted on his trip to Europe that in Great Britain there is driver's license trouble. So many new drivers are now on the road that the means of giving driver's tests has not been able to test them all. Thus all untested drivers were requested to put the letter "L" on the front of their automobiles until they received a driver's test and a driver's license. As a result, Mozley said, everyone is putting "L's" on their automobiles and hoping that the other fella will keep the "L" out of the way.

Local Gridders Set for Texans

Opponents Better Than Record; SJS Sharp in 46-0 Slaughter

The "new-look" Spartans—their monster rating on the upswing after last week's 46-0 clobbering of San Diego State—get set for North Texas State this week.

Coach Bob Titchenal's charges will be seeking their second consecutive success against the hard-luck Texans.

The sophomore-laden Eagles have a 1-4 record but they've performed nobly in every contest to date. They clipped Tulsa, 14-12, Saturday for their initial win.

In their opener, the Eagles were nipped, 14-13, by Texas Western.

Then tough Oklahoma State U. topped 'em 25-19, and Drake followed with a 19-6 victory. Abilene Christian scored a 28-20 decision over NTS.

NTS NOT QUITTERS

Still, it is evident that Coach

Odus Mitchell's yearlings were not quitters. Each of their defeats could have been victories, a statement the Spartans cannot make.

SJS rolled up 545 yards against sickly SDS Saturday night, as all phases of the Spartan machine operated smoothly.

Rapid Ray Norton broke loose twice and had 42 yards in six carries. Norton, probably the Spartans' slickest runner, is one of the few SJS backs with breakaway potential.

POLLARD, BLANCO ROLL

Harvel Pollard and Fred Blanco also delivered good running performances.

Hero of the piece, however, was quarterback Dick Vermeil, who directed three of the first four touchdown passes. Vermeil completed five of six pitches for 155 yards and tacked on an additional 57 yards running for 212 net.

It is difficult to believe that Vermeil was on the bench for most of the Spartans' first three contests.

Defensively, end Dan Colchico and Stan Keith ruined Aztec running plays, they received hard-rock assistance from Herb Boyer, Bill Atkins, Stan Tallant and Ron Earl.

Frosh Grid Team Bows to Mustangs; Drills for JC Clash

San Jose State frosh football squad, having dropped its season opener Friday to the Calif. Poly JVs, is currently preparing to tackle Sierra Junior College Friday night at Auburn.

The Calif. Poly eleven rebounded from a seven point halftime deficit to hand the Spartababes a 20-14 setback last Friday night at San Luis Obispo.

Leon Donahue, a standout while at James Lick High in San Jose, and speedy Ko Abe, from Palo Alto High, turned in sterling efforts for the little Spartans.

Coach Max Coley's frosh team dented the scoreboard after two minutes had elapsed in the first quarter. Abe turned on the speed and rammed 78 yards for the touchdown. Quarterback Nelson Duke kicked the PAT from Ken Rockholt's hold.

The Spartans hit paydirt again in the fourth period as Rich Morgan went over from the one. Duke's kick split the uprights to give the frosh their 14th point.

Donahue hauled in a 20 yard pass to set up the scoring play.

The Mustangs tallied their first touchdown in the third period as Walt Ramazzini intercepted a lateral and scooted 65 yards. A 40 yard pass play from Dale Rogers to Jim Ramsey set up the winner's second TD. Rogers dived over from the one for the score.

Bond Leads Thinclads At Stanford

By CONRAD MUELLER

Probably the best team effort I've ever seen," said Bud Winter, cross-country track coach following the Spartan's one-sided victory over SF State on Friday.

San Jose scored a perfect score of 15 as 15 Spartans finished the race before one Gator could make the crossing.

As has been his habit, Wes Bond led the pack as he continued his winning ways and inched closer to the school record in this event. Bond is expected to lead the Spartans this Saturday at the big meet at Stanford, UCLA, Cal, Stanford, and SJS will participate.

"Not only was it a great team effort," Winter pointed out, "but almost all the boys improved their times by 25 seconds." Winter went on. "Just look. Bond bettered his time by 20.1 seconds over the squad meet; Morgan by 29, Jerry Des Roches by 29, Sam Holt by 22, Ken Napier by 22, Grady Neal by 30, Welvin Stroud by 26, Carl Maloney by 28 and look at Bob Tafoya, 41 seconds better."

Stanford and Cal are untested, but UCLA has four meets under its belt and should be ready for this one. UCLA will probably be favored. Some of the outstanding runners to perform will be Cal's Roger Price, Maynard Orme and Bob House; Stanford's Doug Martin, Jeff Lloyd and Bob Monzingo, and UCLA's great Bob Seamon.

Friday's results: (Places one thru fifteen)

Uppercuts

By RANDIE E. POE
Sports Editor

About three years ago, Notre Dame taskmaster Frank Leahy acidly commented that football had become so complicated that only a vigorous young coach could withstand the game's mounting pressures and intricacies.

So... he checked out.

Ex-Spartan grid boss Bob Bronzan may or may not share the sentiments of his good Irish friend. At any rate, Bronzan, too, stepped down last year after seven years at the fort.

Since it is our opinion that he was castigated unjustly, we asked Bronzan for his views and opinions on a variety of subjects.

It is a matter of record that he is one of the most respected tacticians in the business. He recently turned down an assistant coaching job at Stanford.

Q—How are you spending your spare time now?

A—I've been scouting quite a bit. I've scouted the 49ers for the Chicago Cards, Cal for Navy, Pitt and Navy for Army, COP for Cincinnati, and I'll scout USC three times for Notre Dame.

Q—What part of coaching don't you miss?

A—I don't miss proselytizing and the constant struggle with perennial but trivial problems such as housing for players, eligibility, and worrying about players' finances.

Q—Do you miss coaching?

A—I miss the field and practice work, especially the direct contact with the players.

PLAN TO COACH AGAIN

Q—Do you plan to coach again?

A—I have no specific plan to return to coaching, but I won't close the door if the right offer comes along.

Q—You were accused of being too tough on the players. Some considered you dictatorial. Were you too tough?

A—Some kids say you're rough if you ask them to run drills three times instead of twice. Others will go hard 10 times without complaining.

Teams year in and year out playing great football, practice tough. Notre Dame and Army are cases in point. Army oftentimes scrimmages Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and if they look bad, Thursday, they scrimmage Friday.

Most of our junior college kids are raw material when they come here. We meet 'em for the first time in the spring. We have 20 days, very limited time, to watch them. If a kid won't put out under these circumstances, when will he?

The better your team, the less you need to work them hard. You can do most anything with a winning team but when you're losing, the whole feeling is wrong.

Q—Should college athletes receive books, tuition, and board and room?

A—Either an athlete should be completely non-subsidized, which I don't think will ever happen, or we should give players the equivalent of room, board and tuition. But if we did the latter we should not go above the present rate. However, I wouldn't ask the kids to work in addition to playing ball during the season.

Q—Who is the best player you've seen?

A—Ollie Matson is the greatest all-around football player I've seen.

Bruins Record Second Win; Triumph, 34-0

Bessie's Bruins established themselves as a definite threat to walk off with Eastern League intramural football honors, yesterday, nabbing their second consecutive victory, a 34-0 triumph over Chi Pi Sigma at the Rose Garden Park.

Bill Marchese and Ron Snarr, who led the Bruins to their opening round victory, teamed up to feature yesterday's win. Marchese tallied three touchdowns, one on a 55 yard run and the other two on passes from Snarr.

Snarr hit paydirt twice, hauling in a pair of TD passes from Marchese. Snarr's last touchdown pitch to Marchese covered 60 yards.

Sparked by Bud Smith's sterling effort, the Good Brothers tripped the Air Force ROTC Jet Jockeys, 19-14, to gain their first Eastern loop win of the season.

Smith rambed 50 and 20 yards for TD runs and passed 10 yards to Valerie for the winner's final scoring play. Fritz Keister scored both of the Jet Jockeys' touchdowns.

Chuck Fehely threw touchdown passes to Bill Campbell and Dan Wilson and jaunted 15 yards for another to lead the Jets to a 27-0 triumph over the 184 Club (Sigma Alpha Epsilon). Mike Blessing ran a pass interception back 50 yards for the Jet's final TD.

In the other Eastern circuit game scheduled yesterday, the Outcasts gained a forfeit win over the Student "Y".

The Jacks maintained their unbeaten status in Western League play with a 14-8 victory over Kelley's at the Williams St. Park. Dan Samuelson and John Marina scored touchdowns for the Jacks.

Newman Club claimed its second straight win, a forfeit triumph over the Cerebral Seven.

The Hustlers and Spartan Hall battled to a 6-6 stalemate at Williams St. Park in the closest game yesterday. Gary Visser passed three yards to Jerry Meckler for the Spartan Hall TD, while Jerry Murphy tossed 28 yards to Bob Krail for the Hustler touchdown.

Aero Department, paced by Bob Lee, blanked Gregories Grubbie's, 12-0, to record their first win of the season against a lone loss.

Sojourners Plan Meetings

The Sojourners Club, a Masonic organization, is making arrangements to meet with the various Masonic Lodges in the area on the regular meeting nights of these lodges, according to Wesley E. Overton, adviser to the club.

Sojourners will be notified by mail when the Masonic meetings will be held. The lodges, which send notices of the meetings to their own members, will include Sojourners members on their mailing list.

Any students wishing to be included on the mailing list should contact Barrie W. Bormann, president of the Sojourners Club. Bormann may be contacted at CY-39203.

'Early' Music

The Choralliers, directed by William Erlendson, associate professor of music, will present a program of early vocal music at today's Survey of Music Literature class, 11:30 a.m. in the Music Building's Concert Hall.

Want to Make Good Grades? Be Interested

"Be interested in your classes, for then you will be able to keep up with studies and therefore will get better grades."

This is the advice offered by Miss Noreen Nordheim who, recently received a $200 award from the Borden Foundation for the highest grade point averages of all freshmen in 1956-57.

Miss Nordheim is a 19-year-old general education major whose home is in San Jose. This year she is living at Garland House and admits that she finds it a little harder to study there than she did while living at home last year.

The first semester of her freshman year she received a 3.9 grade point average. The second semester it rose to 4.0. Miss Nordheim also finds time to sing in the choir, and last year she played the viola in the orchestra.

A brown-eyed brunette with a long pony tail, Miss Nordheim attended Willow Glen High School where she was president of girls' activities, and Edward Markham Junior High School where she served as president of the student body.

She feels that a person "is not a brain if he gets straight A's. Grades don't always indicate I.Q. For instance, a student may receive a poor grade because he fails to turn in a notebook."

ISO Exhibit

An exhibit in honor of United Nations Week, prepared by the International Relations Club, will be on display in the Library this week.

ATTENTION! SAN JOSE STATE STUDENTS

an important notice to all students who plan to have their pictures in the 1958 LA TORRE . . .

TIME IS RUNNING OUT

If you're planning to graduate in January '58, June '58, or from summer school '58, and you wish to have your photograph included with all the other seniors, the time to act is NOW. If you want your photograph included in the NEW 1958 LA TORRE as a member of a fraternal group (social or professional), or as a member of any campus organization, the time to act is NOW.

NO PIX AFTER DEADLINE

The portrait photographers this year are from the east coast and because of other commitments they will be here only a short time longer. In years past, seniors have been able to go and have their pictures taken after the deadline and have had them included in the year book. This year it will be impossible.

WHAT TO DO

So if you have decided you want picture included in the 1958 LA TORRE here's what to do—

- Make an appointment in the back of Building P. Building P is the old, two-story, white frame building located between the engineering building and the new cafeteria.
- Remember to keep the appointment and to be dressed correctly.
- SMILE.

Muffler Microphone Tests show why

Here's scientific proof that Shell Premium with TCP* restores lost engine power. It neutralizes deposits which can cause even new engines to lose power in 3000 miles.

Before TCP

After TCP
